KEY MESSAGES
Key Messages

1. In order to have gender responsive local actions women’s voices have to be brought in to influence policies and coalition building.

2. Women don’t want to be target groups for development projects but actors in their own development. An enabling environment is necessary for women to develop themselves. In this way women can take the opportunities given to them.

3. Local ownership and early involvement of participants at the lowest appropriate level are crucial for sustainable solutions, but difficult to realise in practice.

4. Social mechanisms – capacity building and local empowerment are the key to successful sustainable technical solutions, however in practice often overlooked.

5. Women are catalyst for community development. Make women aware of their ability to contribute to development. A female role model can play a very important part in this.
Key Message

In order to have gender responsive local actions women’s voices have to be brought in to influence policies and coalition building.
Key Message

Women don’t want to be target groups for development projects but actors in their own development. An enabling environment is necessary for women to develop themselves. In this way women can take the opportunities given to them.
Local ownership and early involvement of participants at the lowest appropriate level are crucial for sustainable solutions, but difficult to realise in practice.
Key Message

Social mechanisms – capacity building and local empowerment are the key to successful sustainable technical solutions, however in practice often overlooked.
Women are catalyst for community development. Make women aware of their ability to contribute to development. A female role model can play a very important part in this.